Stock Availability

In some cases, we need to establish for a member whether stock of a product is available. If stock is required by a particular date, please advise the consultant when placing the initial enquiry. The information we receive from suppliers is accurate at the time we receive it, but is subject to change very quickly particularly for popular items like electrical goods. While we endeavour to provide members with the best information, advice to members regarding stock availability is indicative only and not a guarantee.

Delivery

Delivery cannot be guaranteed for a specific day/time. Some orders may be delivered from the manufacturer directly. Delivery is provided on most large items.

Payment

Based on the item, the supplier may request a deposit or full payment prior to delivery. Payment procedures are relative to each supplier's terms and conditions.
